The parties each agree that: (a) its obligations hereunder are necessary and reasonable to protect the disclosing party; and, (b) due to the unique nature of the disclosing party's Confidential Information, monetary damages would be inadequate compensation for breach. Accordingly, the parties each agree any such violation or threatened violation shall cause irreparable injury to the disclosing party and that, in addition to any other remedies that may be available, at law, in equity or otherwise, the disclosing party shall be entitled to obtain injunctive relief.
11. Export Laws. Neither party shall export, directly or indirectly, any technical data acquired from the other party pursuant to this Agreement or any product utilizing any such data to any country for which the Israeli Government, the U.S. Government, the European Union Authorities or any agency thereof at the time of export requires an export license or other governmental approval without first obtaining such license or approval.
