

FCC/IC ID label and location.

The FCC ID label is placed in the AA battery compartment. We did this to make sure that the user will be forced to look at the ID number before using the product since he will be required to install batteries in the unit. In addition, we felt that this location would be more durable, thereby guaranteeing that the label will remain with the unit for the duration of its lifetime. Finally, the user will be forced to look at the FCC ID number each time he/she swaps batteries or accesses the microSD card slot.
