

Short Description for Bedas 93 20

The Bedas 93 20 is a time recording terminal. This device is recording the In and Out times of the employee and is transmitting the data to a computer for evaluation. The computer is managing the data.

For a booking the employee is pressing the corresponding In or Out key and is holding his Legic badge in front of the device. Then the ID no. and the current time is sent to the computer. The computer will return, e.g. the overtime of the employee. This data is displayed by the Bedas 93 20.

The device can also work in operating mode off-line. In that case, all the bookings are stored in the device and, e.g. the overtime is fetched from the employees master record which is also stored in the terminal.
