The 1701 will always be placed in a cloth bag which has a security seal on it. This is to prevent the parolee from opening the package and tampering with the electronic. Picture 1 shows the unit in the bag and this is this is the standard packaging configuration.

The following pictures are of the unit once it is removed from the cloth bag. This condition will only occur when the unit is under repair at an ABS repair facility. The left unit has the outer most metal cover still on and the right unit has it removed. This will give an exploratory view of the unit.
