

The middle position of the label is in contact with the sample, and the ends of the label are folded in half at the middle of the label and placed on the sample..

