

Description of FCC Labeling for Zodiac Series Radar Detector

For FCC Part 15 Order FCC02-211 compliance.
PNI FCC file for FCC License QJ3-IFS-11428

Purpose

This document describes the discrete models and marketing names used under the FCC license QJ3-IFS-11428. Additionally this document describes the placement of the FCC ID label and notifications placed on the product and in the user manuals.

Procedure

11/11/2003

PNI Corp part number 11428 and 11478 will use the marketing name Zodiac and Zodiac II respectively. The FCC ID label will appear as shown in figure 1 below. Figure 2 shows the placement of the label on the bottom of the unit, while Figure 3 shows the FCC license information used in the manual on the first production run in July of 2003.

Figure 1 Label to be applied directly on product

Zodiac Bottom View

Zodiac II Bottom View

Figure 2 Placement of label on bottom of unit

ZODIAC FCC ID: QJ3-IFS-11428

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

In addition, any changes or modifications to this product, which are not expressly approved by PNI Corporation in writing, could void the user's authority to operate this product.

ZODIACII FCC ID: QJ3-IFS-11428

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

In addition, any changes or modifications to this product, which are not expressly approved by PNI Corporation in writing, could void the user's authority to operate this product.

Figure 3 label used in user manual