

Description of the demo-board for SC14CVMDECT

The demo-board used for the type approval of SC14CVMDECT represents the main board in the way that all connection lines from/to the module are available on the board. The module is placed on the demo-board in the same way as the OEM integrators are instructed to integrate the module on the main board of the end product.

The demo-board contains circuit for data communication to the module - used for preparation of the module before the test. During the test the module is battery powered without any other lines connected to the board. Dimensions shown below are in millimeters
